FINANCIAL CONDITION OF KENTUCKY.—Through the courtesy of the State Treasurer, James H. Garrard, the Frankfort Commonwealth is enabled to give some facts regarding the financial condition of our State, which will not only gratify all its citizens, but justify and confirm the confidence which has been so universally extended to Kentucky. Garrard has furnished a statement of the balances in the Treasury at the end of each fiscal year for several years past, showing:

Balance in Treasury Oct. 10, 1861, 280,111.65
Balance in Treasury Oct. 10, 1863, 809,387.00

In all cases the interest on the public debt has been promptly paid in the city of New York, where the same is made payable. The numerous and heavy claims growing out of the recruiting service, and our military supplies generally, have all been paid with equal promptness. All that has been done without encroaching on the "Common-school fund," which has been "held inviolate," as required by the Constitution. Not a dollar of this fund has been touched, but the whole of it has been held sacred for the uses for which it was intended.

Our military advances, and expenditures growing out of the recruiting of over 40,000 men for the Federal army, have been heavy, but they have all been met. In addition to this large number of loyal citizens, who were sent from their usual vocations, there were the rebel army, and in the Southern Confederacy, nearly 15,000 of our citizens. Nearly one-third of our State has been in the hands of the rebels, or without sheriffs or other officers, and many parts of the State have been infested by guerrillas to such an extent as to suspend all business.

Our banks are in as good condition as any in the Union. Kentucky has never been declared a premium. Our courts are in operation in all parts of the State where they can be held with safety. The common-school system has been kept up.

Thus, as the Commonwealth says, in the face of the troubles and dangers which have surrounded her, Kentucky has been true and true to-day presents a record in every respect that concerns her position, character, and honor, of which any State might well be proud. It is exceedingly gratifying that Kentucky has been so true and faithful throughout all the terrible revolution, which has rocked so many States. She has been tried in the crucible of war, and she has emerged with her reputation unimpaired.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT—ONE MAN KILLED AND TWENTY-THREE WOUNDED.—The regular express train, composed of five passenger cars and about thirteen box cars, left Lexington at 10:30 a. m. on Thursday morning for Lexington, with an accident one mile from Butler Station and twenty-seven from Covington, which caused the death of one soldier and the wounding of twenty-two others. While the train was passing over a high embankment, a rail broke, causing four box cars and a passenger car to run off the track. The cars were filled with soldiers, one of whom was killed outright, and twenty-two others were wounded, eight or ten severely and the remainder slightly. They all belonged to the 1st Ohio Heavy Artillery, which regiment has been stationed at Covington for some time past. There were three companies on board the train.

The following is a list of the casualties: Killed—Enoch King, Co. L, Wounded—Corporal Wm. H. Smith, Co. L; Privates—C. M. Cates, Co. L; Henry Newman, Co. L; George W. Lyngrover, Co. B; Wm. Boris, Co. B; Nels Johnson, Co. B; George C. Moore, Co. B; James Ferguson, Co. H; H. B. Walker, Co. H; very seriously; Wm. G. Hester, Co. H; Isaac Trout, Co. H; William Tanner, Co. H; Geo. M. Moore, Co. H; Geo. Venters, Co. H; Isiah Reynolds, Co. H; Stephen Arthur, Co. H; Thomas T. Davis, Co. H; George Smith, Co. H; John W. Smith, Co. H; Sylvester L. Smith, Co. L; Jefferson Hoggins, Co. L.

The accident happened about eight o'clock A. M. Information of it was telegraphed to Covington, and Colonel Keith, Post-Commodant, accompanied by Dr. C. P. Thomas, the Main Street Hospital, John W. Farrel, of the Railroad Company, and others, repaired to the scene of the catastrophe in a special train and contributed greatly to the relief of the sufferers.

CONGRESS OF BREWERS.—During the present week there has been in session in Cincinnati a congress of brewers, composed of delegates from every portion of the Northern States. Nearly one hundred delegates were present.
